SUPPORT

The Duke Ellington School of the Arts

Duke Ellington School of the Arts is nationally known for its ability to take ordinary urban kids with talent and turn them into both academic and artistic successes. The school has a remarkable 98% graduation rate and a 95% college acceptance rate.

Duke Ellington is an accredited college preparatory public arts school in the District of Columbia offering pre-professional training in museum studies, literary media & communications, visual arts, dance, theater, vocal and instrumental music, and technical design and production. Ellington offers students an educational experience that combines both academic studies and artistic development. Ellington's vision is to meet the needs of talented students who are considering careers in the arts by providing intensive arts instruction of the highest quality and a strong academic curriculum to prepare them for post-secondary education and/or pre-professional careers. Ellington's unique partnership with The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, The George Washington University, and the District of Columbia Public Schools provides significant opportunities to the students, faculty and staff.
